USDA Prime Certification
USDA certification is a mark of beef quality that’s based on the degree of fat marbling within the rib eye. Exceptional marbling translates to a more tender, flavorful cut of meat. USDA Prime represents the highest tier of all domestic beef, followed by USDA Choice.
A. The Prime Collection

Only the top tier of all domestic beef qualifies as USDA Prime based on the degree of marbling found on the rib eye. Our Prime Collection features only the finest cuts of Stock Yards® USDA Prime wet-aged beef. We’ve also included our Epicure Seasoning, which features a secret formula of spices that enhances flavor when grilling or broiling.
